Summary of the Board’s Decision

[1] The Board found that the Respondent carried out prescribed electrical work (PEW) at [OMITTED] on or about 5 April 2018 in a manner that was contrary to any enactment relating to electrical supply or prescribed electrical work that was in force at the time the work was done, being an offence under section 143(a)(ii) of the Act. The Respondent provided a false or misleading return being an offence under section 143(f) of the Act, and further failed to provide an Electricity Safety Certificate for the PEW he carried out an offence under section 143(f) of the Act. The Respondent accepted the disciplinary charges and cooperated.

[2] [2] The Board, having made those findings, decided that it would censure the Respondent and order that the Respondent pay costs of $225. A record of the offending will be recorded on the public Register for a period of three years. An article summarising the matter will be published in the Electron, but the Respondent will not be named in it.

Introduction

[3] The hearing resulted from a complaint about the conduct of the Respondent and a report under section 147G(1) of the Act from the Investigator that the complaint should be considered by the Board.

[4] The Respondent was served with a notice setting out the alleged disciplinary offences the Investigator reported should be considered by the Board. They were:

First Alleged Disciplinary Offence

1. On or around 5 April 2018 at [OMITTED] Mr Armando Weber has carried out or caused to be carried out prescribed electrical work in a manner contrary to any enactment relating to electrical supply or prescribed electrical work that was in force at the time the work was done being an offence under section 143(a)(ii) of the Act, IN THAT, he failed to install a main switch or switches that control the whole electrical installation in breach of regulations 13 (1), 59 (2) of the Electricity (Safety) Regulations 2010 and AS/NZS 3000:2007 clause 2.3.3.1.

Or in the Alternative

2. On or around 5 April 2018 at [OMITTED] Mr Armando Weber has carried out or caused to be carried out prescribed electrical work in a negligent or incompetent manner being an offence under section 143(a)(i) of the Act, IN THAT, he failed to install a main switch or switches that control the whole electrical installation.

Second Alleged Disciplinary Offence

3. On or around 5 April 2018 at [OMITTED] Mr Armando Weber has provided a false or misleading return being an offence under section 143(f) of the Act, IN THAT, he issued a certificate of compliance for Prescribed Electrical Work that was not carried out lawfully or safely.

Third Alleged Disciplinary Offence

4. On or around 5 April 2018 at [OMITTED] Mr Armando Weber has failed to provide a return being an offence under section 143(f) of the Act, IN THAT, he failed to provide a Electricity Safety Certificate for Prescribed Electrical Work he carried out.

[5] Prior to the hearing, the Respondent and the Board were provided with all of the documents the Investigator had in his/her power or possession.

[6] No Board Members declared any conflicts of interest in relation to the matters under consideration.

Function of Disciplinary Action

[7] The common understanding of the purpose of professional discipline is to uphold the integrity of the profession. The focus is not punishment, but the protection of the public, the maintenance of public confidence and the enforcement of high standards of propriety and professional conduct. Those purposes were recently reiterated by the Supreme Court of the United Kingdom in R v Institute of Chartered Accountants in England and Wales<sup>1</sup> and in New Zealand in Dentice v Valuers Registration Board<sup>2</sup>.

- [8] Disciplinary action under the Act is not designed to redress issues or disputes between a complainant and a respondent. In McLanahan and Tan v The New Zealand Registered Architects Board,<sup>3</sup> Collins J. noted that:

“... the disciplinary process does not exist to appease those who are dissatisfied ... . The disciplinary process ... exists to ensure professional standards are maintained in order to protect clients, the profession and the broader community.”

- [9] The Board can only inquire into “the conduct of an electrical worker” with respect to the grounds for discipline set out in section 143 of the Act. It does not have any jurisdiction over contractual matters.

Procedure

- [10] The matter proceeded on the basis of an Agreed Statement of Facts.

Evidence

- [11] The Board must be satisfied on the balance of probabilities that the disciplinary offences alleged have been committed<sup>4</sup>. The Board notes, as regards evidence in proceedings before it, that the provisions of section 147W of the Act apply. This section states:

In all proceedings under this Part, the Board may, subject to section 156, receive as evidence any statement, document, information, or matter that may in its opinion assist it to deal effectively with the matter before it, whether or not it would be admissible as evidence in a court of law.

- [12] The Board heard from the Respondent prior to it making a decision.
- [13] The general rule is that all facts in issue, or relevant to the issue in a case, must be proved by evidence. As the Investigator and Respondent agreed to the facts as outlined above, it was not necessary to call any further evidence or to test the evidence as outlined in the Statement.

First Offence

- [14] The Respondent accepted that he had failed to install a main switch or switches that control the whole electrical installation.
- [15] The charge was put before the Board in the alternatives of contrary to an enactment under section 143(a)(ii) and negligence or incompetence under section 143(a)(i) of the Act.
- [16] Pursuant to the opening submissions for the Investigator, the Investigator and the Respondent agreed that the Respondent had acted contrary to an enactment under section 143(a)(ii) of the Act, and the Investigator agreed to no longer pursue the conduct as being negligent or incompetent.

- [17] Regulation 59 of the Safety Regulations mandates that the PEW had to comply with AS/NZS 3000. It did not. Specifically, the PEW was not in accordance with AS/NZS 3000 clause 2.3.3.1. As such, it was not carried out in accordance with an enactment.
- [18] Contrary to an enactment is a form of strict liability offence in that all that needs to be proven is that the relevant enactment has been breached, in the instance the Electricity (Safety) Regulations 2010 or any of the cited standards within Schedule 2 of the Regulations. The Board does not need to find that there was intention, fault or negligence.<sup>4</sup> On that basis, the Respondent's conduct comes within the disciplinary offence in section 143(a)(ii) of the Act.
- [19] The Board found, on the basis of the Agreed Statement of Facts, that the Respondent had caused to be carried out prescribed electrical work in a manner that was not in accordance with the standards to be expected of an electrical worker and the Respondent accepts he has committed the offence under s143(a)(ii) of the Act, that is, that he carried out or caused to be carried out PEW contrary to an enactment.

Second Offence

- [20] The first charge under section 143(f) of the Act related to falsely certifying the work as safe and lawful when there were elements of the work that were not carried out safely and lawfully.
- [21] In determining whether a return is false or misleading is a question of fact to be decided objectively, and the intention of the issuer is irrelevant. A Certificate of Compliance must state that the prescribed electrical work has been done lawfully and safely and that the information in the certificate is correct.
- [22] The Respondent's PEW was not compliant and was not safe to connect. It followed that his Certificate of Compliance was false or misleading, which the Respondent accepted.

Third Offence

- [23] The second charge under section 143(f) of the Act related to failing to provide an Electrical Safety Certificate (ESC).
- [24] The Safety Regulations set out the requirements for Certificates of Compliance (CoC) and Electrical Safety Certificates (ESC).
- [25] There is a requirement that an ESC be issued for all prescribed electrical work. It must contain a statement to the effect that the installation or part installation is connected to a power supply and is safe to use. The Respondent failed to provide an ESC, which the Respondent accepted.

Board's Decision

- [26] The Board has decided that the Respondent has:
- (a) carried out PEW in a manner that was contrary to an enactment, being a disciplinary offence under section 143(a)(ii) of the Act;

- (b) provided a false or misleading return being an offence under section 143(f) of the Act; and
- (c) failed to provide an Electrical Safety Certificates being an offence under section 143(f) of the Act.

Penalty, Costs and Publication

- [27] Having found that one or more of the grounds in section 143 applies the Board must, under section 147M of the Act<sup>i</sup>, consider the appropriate disciplinary penalty, whether the Respondent should be ordered to pay any costs and whether the decision should be published.
- [28] The Respondent made submissions at the hearing as regards penalty, costs and publication.

Penalty

- [29] The Board has the discretion to impose a range of penalties, which are set out in section 147M of the Act. Exercising that discretion and determining the appropriate penalty requires that the Board balance various factors, including the seriousness of the conduct and any mitigating or aggravating factors present.<sup>5</sup> It is not a formulaic exercise, but there are established underlying principles that the Board should take into consideration. They include:<sup>6</sup>
- (a) protection of the public and consideration of the purposes of the Act;<sup>7</sup>
  - (b) deterring other Electrical Workers from similar offending;<sup>8</sup>
  - (c) setting and enforcing a high standard of conduct for the industry;<sup>9</sup>
  - (d) penalising wrongdoing;<sup>10</sup> and
  - (e) rehabilitation (where appropriate).<sup>11</sup>
- [30] Overall, the Board should assess the conduct against the range of penalty options available in section 318 of the Act, reserving the maximum penalty for the worst cases<sup>12</sup> and applying the least restrictive penalty available for the particular offending.<sup>13</sup> In all, the Board should be looking to impose a fair, reasonable, and proportionate penalty<sup>14</sup> that is consistent with other penalties imposed by the Board for comparable offending.<sup>15</sup>

- [31] In general, when determining the appropriate penalty, the Board adopts a starting point based on the principles outlined above prior to it considering any aggravating and/or mitigating factors present.<sup>16</sup>
- [32] Based on the above, the Board's penalty decision is a censure. A censure is a public expression of disapproval of a practitioner's conduct.

Costs

- [33] Under section 147N of the Act, the Board may require the Respondent to pay the Board any sum that it considers just and reasonable towards the costs and expenses of, and incidental to the investigation, prosecution and the hearing.
- [34] The Respondent should note that the High Court has held that 50% of total reasonable costs should be taken as a starting point in disciplinary proceedings and that the percentage can then be adjusted up or down having regard to the particular circumstances of each case.<sup>17</sup>
- [35] In Collie v Nursing Council of New Zealand,<sup>18</sup> where the order for costs in the tribunal was 50% of actual costs and expenses, the High Court noted that:

But for an order for costs made against a practitioner, the profession is left to carry the financial burden of the disciplinary proceedings, and as a matter of policy that is not appropriate.

- [36] In Kenneth Michael Daniels v Complaints Committee 2 of the Wellington District Law Society,<sup>19</sup> the High Court noted:

[46] All cases referred to in Cooray were medical cases and the Judge was careful to note that the 50 per cent was the general approach that the Medical Council took. We do not accept that if there was any such approach, it is necessarily to be taken in proceedings involving other disciplinary bodies. Much will depend upon the time involved, actual expenses incurred, attitude of the practitioner bearing in mind that whilst the cost of a disciplinary action by a professional body must be something of a burden imposed upon its members, those members should not be expected to bear too large a measure where a practitioner is shown to be guilty of serious misconduct.

<sup>15</sup> Roberts v A Professional Conduct Committee of the Nursing Council of New Zealand [2012] NZHC 3354

<sup>16</sup> In Lochhead v Ministry of Business Innovation and Employment 3 November [2016] NZDC 21288 the District Court recommended that the Board adopt the approach set out in the Sentencing Act 2002.

<sup>17</sup> Cooray v The Preliminary Proceedings Committee HC, Wellington, AP23/94, 14 September 1995, Macdonald v Professional Conduct Committee, HC, Auckland, CIV 2009-404-1516, 10 July 2009, Owen v Wynyard HC, Auckland, CIV-2009-404-005245, 25 February 2010.

[47] Costs orders made in proceedings involving law practitioners are not to be determined by any mathematical approach. In some cases 50 per cent will be too high, in others insufficient.

- [37] The Board has adopted an approach to costs that uses a scale based on 50% of the average costs of different categories of hearings, simple, moderate and complex. The current matter was simple. Adjustments based on the High Court decisions above are then made.
- [38] Based on the above, the Board's costs order is that the Respondent is to pay the sum of $225 toward the costs of and incidental to the matter. In setting the amount of costs the Board took into account that the Respondent had agreed to the matter proceeding by way of an Agreed Statement of Facts.

Publication

- [39] As a consequence of its decision, the Respondent's name and the disciplinary outcomes will be recorded in the public Register as required by the Act<sup>20</sup>. The Board can, pursuant to section 147Z of the Act, also order publication over and above the public register notation. Under section 147Z, the Board may, if no appeal is brought within 20 working days of its decision, direct the Registrar to cause a notice stating the effect of the decision or order, the reasons for the decision or order, and (unless the Board directs otherwise) the name of the person in respect of whom the decision or order was made, to be published in the Gazette and any other publications as may be directed by the Board.
- [40] As a general principle, such further public notification may be required where the Board perceives a need for the public and/or the profession to know of the findings of a disciplinary hearing. This is in addition to the Respondent being named in this decision.
- [41] Within New Zealand, there is a principle of open justice and open reporting which is enshrined in the Bill of Rights Act 1990<sup>21</sup>. The Criminal Procedure Act 2011 sets out grounds for suppression within the criminal jurisdiction<sup>22</sup>. Within the disciplinary hearing jurisdiction, the courts have stated that the provisions in the Criminal Procedure Act do not apply but can be instructive<sup>23</sup>. The High Court provided guidance as to the types of factors to be taken into consideration in N v Professional Conduct Committee of Medical Council<sup>24</sup>.
- [42] The courts have also stated that an adverse finding in a disciplinary case usually requires that the name of the practitioner be published in the public interest<sup>25</sup>. It is, however, common practice in disciplinary proceedings to protect the names of other persons involved as naming them does not assist the public interest.

- [43] Based on the above, the Board will publish a general article in the Electron summarising the matter but will not order further publication. The Respondent will not be identified in the Electron.
- [44] The Respondent should also note that the Board has not made any form of order under section 153(3) of the Act, which allows for prohibition of publication.

Penalty, Costs and Publication Orders

- [45] For the reasons set out above, the Board directs that:

Penalty: Pursuant to section 147M(1)(g) of the Electricity Act 1992, the Respondent is censured.

Costs: Pursuant to section 147N of the Act, the Respondent is ordered to pay costs of $225(GST included) towards the costs of, and incidental to, the inquiry of the Board.

Publication: The Registrar shall record the Board's action in the Register of Electrical Workers in accordance with section 128(1)(c)(viii) of the Act.

The Respondent will be named in this decision, which will be publicly available on the Board's website.

A summary of the matter will be published by way of an article in the Electron, which will focus on the lessons to be learnt from the case. The Respondent will not be named in the publication.

- [46] The Respondent should note that the Board may refuse to relicense an electrical worker who has not paid any fine or costs imposed on them.

Right of Appeal

- [47] The right to appeal Board decisions is provided for in sections 147ZA and 147ZB of the Act<sup>ii</sup>.
