

Registration application (including optional registration certificate) and associated practising licence application (if required) for overseas trained applicants.

This application form is for overseas trained applicants applying for initial registration and a practising licence to work in New Zealand. Please note that Australian Licence holders should use form 1.3.

Guidance notes

What you need:

- › Before you apply please make sure you have suitable experience to apply for one of our registration classes. All registration requires suitable practical experience of prescribed electrical work. If you do not have this experience, then delay applying until you have gained suitable experience. If you wish to gain this experience in New Zealand please ensure that you hold a Trainee Limited Certificate while you do so.

The required work experience for each class is set out below:

Registration class	References – time required
Electrician	Four years' experience as an electrician including 2000 hours wiring installation
Electrician (endorsed mining)	The above including 1 year's practical experience in a mining operation or substantially similar operation
Electrical Engineer	One year's practical experience in carrying out prescribed electrical work (PEW*) deemed suitable by the Board ¹
Electrical Installer	Two years' experience in carrying out PEW* as an Installer in specialised area
Electrical Service Technician (EST)	18 months' experience in the PEW* of an EST, including six months' experience on multi-phase appliances or fittings and experience of disconnection/reconnection from a power supply
Electrical Appliance Serviceperson (EAS)	18 months' experience in carrying out maintenance and servicing of plug-in 250V equipment
Electrical Appliance Serviceperson (endorsed to disconnect and reconnect) EASQ	18 months' experience in carrying out PEW* on 250V equipment including experience disconnecting and reconnecting from a permanent connection unit
Distribution Line Mechanic	Two years' experience in the work of a distribution line mechanic
Traction Line Mechanic	Two years' experience in work of a traction line mechanic
Transmission Line Mechanic	Two years' experience in work of a transmission line mechanic

Note 1 – Electrical Engineer registration will have a limitation if experience is limited to specific areas or skills.

*PEW OR Prescribed Electrical Work is defined in the Electrical (Safety) Regulations 2010, but broadly speaking is hands-on electrical work dealing with low voltage (above 50V AC, but less than 1000V AC) or high voltage (above 1000V AC) but excludes among other things, extra-low voltage (below 50V) and electrical design. If unsure check out the Regulations through this link. If what you are doing, or plan to do, does not involve prescribed electrical work then registration and licensing is not required.

The application form can be used twice. The first time to apply for registration and assessment – the fee for this is $350. If your experience is approved we will offer a Limited Certificate to enable you to work in New Zealand under supervision. During the duration of your Limited Certificate (usually one year) you will be expected to complete the exams and practical assessments required for full registration.

Once all requirements are completed use this form to apply for a practising licence and pay the pro-rata fee specified in the table on the payment page.

An optional registration certificate can be paid for at either of these times if required.

■ REFERENCES

The Board requires written references to establish that a person has sufficient experience in the registration class they are applying for. Please ensure that your referee includes details of the type of prescribed electrical work that you have done and indicates how long you worked doing that type of work.

References should be written on company letterhead, dated and have a personal signature. We do not require character references.

Please submit certified copies only, not original documents.

■ QUALIFICATIONS

The Board has a manual of overseas qualifications that can be viewed here. Please submit only certificates that are cited in this manual, or if you have an equivalent qualification also submit confirmation from the issuing qualifications authority (of your qualification) that your qualification is equivalent to those that we cite in our manual.

Please do not submit minor qualifications (gained prior to your main qualification), transcripts or certificates of attendance at upskilling courses. These will be of interest to employers but have no bearing on the assessment process.

If the Board recognises your qualification you may be exempt from some exam and practical assessment requirements.

YOUR APPLICATION MUST NOT EXCEED 20 PAGES OF SINGLE-SIDED DOCUMENTS. EXCEPTIONS CAN BE APPROVED WHERE DOCUMENTS HAVE TRANSLATIONS ATTACHED

■ PASSPORT PAGE

The Board will require a certified copy of the personal identity page of your passport to confirm your identity.

■ DO YOU MEET THE CRITERIA OF FIT AND PROPER PERSON?

The Board must be satisfied that an applicant is a “Fit & Proper” person to be registered. If you are in doubt whether you are “Fit & Proper” then go to this Policy Document on our website.

If you think you might not meet the Board’s criteria then please complete this form and submit it with the appropriate tick on page 6. A licensing officer will be in contact to discuss your circumstances. Note the Board has the discretion to register and licence a person who does not meet the criteria if they are able to show that they are a fit and proper person to hold registration.

■ HAVE YOU COMPLETED YOUR SAFETY TRAINING?

All applicants should do safety training within three months of getting a Limited Certificate. This must include Safe Working Practices, Testing, First Aid and CPR. As you are an experienced electrical worker you are not required to do the initial training that a trainee should do – a refresher level training course is fine. However a Competence Programme (refresher) will not cover Safe Working Practices (SWP) unless you specifically request it or do a course such as a Site Safe Electrical Passport.

If this NZ safety training was over two years ago you must also do an updating Competence Programme before you apply for registration. This does not need to include SWP.

If you complete a practical assessment at some point you may find that some of this safety training is covered so check with your Training Provider.

Important points when applying to complete your registration

When you apply for your practising licence have you supplied a photo for your ID card? Or is this already on file?

To ensure that every ID card is produced to a high standard, images submitted with your application must be:

- › a face, head and shoulders shot, looking directly at the camera and less than six months old;
- › no sunglasses, or glasses with tinted lenses that obscure your eyes;
- › 3:4 – width to height ratio, in full colour;
- › between 50KB and 5MB in size (or printed image for paper applications).

The Board may also refuse photographs which are not of adequate quality or are composed in a way that is unsuitable for use on an ID card.
